Potential PG&E Power Shutoff Wed., Nov. 20

Saint Mary's Incident Management has issued a LiveSafe alert notifying the campus of a Public Safety Power Shutoff (PSPS) for Wednesday morning in response to developing weather conditions that are forecast in the East Bay between Wednesday, 9 a.m., to Thursday afternoon or evening. Please refer to Incident Management alerts on the Public Safety and Transportation webpage for updates. Read More

SEBA Students' Case Study Reimagines Moraga
Hidden Masterpiece of the Bay. The Family-Friendly Hiking Capitol of the East Bay. Moraga, a Dog Owners Paradise. Walk the Rock. Small Town, Big Adventure. These are the branded taglines that were suggested by student teams vying for first prize during the SEBA Business Case Study competition held on Tuesday, Nov. 12, at the Soda Center at Saint Mary’s. And the winner is… Walk the Rock! Read More

Gaels Cheer Tournament Selection

It’s official. The Gaels have secured the No. 12 seed in the NCAA Tournament. The Gaels gathered in McKeon Pavilion this morning for the 2019 NCAA Division I Selection Show and applauded the good news. They will have a first-round bye and will play the winner of the Cal/UC Santa Barbara game at 1 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 24, at Saint Mary’s Stadium. Read more about the team's success.

SMC Represented at Women's Studies Conference

Saint Mary’s College was well-represented at last week’s National Women’s Studies Association (NWSA) annual conference in San Francisco, which ran from Nov. 14 to 17. Founding Director of SMC’s Center for Women and Gender Equity (CWGE) Roseanne Quinn (shown at right holding award, with WaGS Professor Denise Witzig) received the group’s Feminist Change Agent award. In addition, several SMC faculty members served as presenters and panel organizers. Read More

Bible, Theology & Religion Lecture Wed. by Prof. Michael Barram

Readers often assume that the Bible functions like a divinely inspired answer book—providing responses to life’s big questions—and sometimes it does just that. Other times, it doesn’t. Professor of Theology and Religious Studies Michael Barram asks, "What if we were to read the Bible not so much for the answers it provides as for the questions it raises and inspires?" Join him on Wednesday, Nov. 20, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the Soda Center’s Moraga Room to ask some big questions. Read More
